Western Alarm Mounts over Congo Crisis

Another Korealike War Feared Possible After Lumumba Slaying

LONDON (AP)—Western alarm mounted today as Communist support for Patrice Lumumba's political heirs in the Congo raised the fearful specter of a Korea-like war in the heart of Africa.

Banner newspapers headlines across Western Europe showed the concern at the Soviet Union's offer of "all possible assistance and support" to the Lumumbist government of Antoine Gizenga, controlling a large part of the northern Congo from headquarters in Stanleyville.

Fears were openly expressed that the U.N. attempt to prevent Civil war in the Congo would collapse, that the Soviet Union and its Communist allies would supply Gizenga's forces, and that the United States and its allies would have to bulwark the Leopoldville government of President Joseph Kasavubu and Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu or see the vast territory go to the Communists by default.

President Nasser's United Arab Republic Tuesday night officially recognized Gizenga's regime as the legal government of the Congo. Red China quickly lined up.

Premier Chou En-lai cabled Gizenga: "The Chinese people are deeply convinced that the Congolese people will surely turn their grief into strength and, under the leadership of your excellency and the lawful Congolese government, will fight to the end against the imperialist bloc headed by the United States of America and in defense of the national independence of the Congo."

Ghana's President Kwame Nkrumah, always a supporter of Lumumba, lashed the United Nations for the role it played in the Congo and added: "The danger in the Congo is not so much the possibility of a civil war between Africans, but rather a colonialist war in which the colonial and imperialist powers hide behind African puppet regimes."

U.S. officials were reported counting heavily on dozens of the smaller nations—particularly in Africa—to rally to the defense of the United Nations. This hope was bolstered by India's ambassador to Washington, M. C. Chagla, who said his government favors strengthening the United Nations because "it is only as the United Nations is effective that we will prevent civil war."

Tunisia's government radio attacked the Soviet action in the new Congo crisis, calling it "dangerous" and "risking creation of a new Korea."

Observers in Cairo predicted heavy pressure on Sudanese Premier Ibrahim Abboud to allow planes carrying arms and other supplies from the Communists and the U.A.R. to Stanleyville to make the necessary refueling stop in the Sudan.

Many observers in Cairo believe the Soviet Union is geared for a big arms supply program to Stanleyville. Mysterious Soviet vessels recently have slipped unannounced through the Suez Canal reportedly carrying arms and explosives. There have been signs of increased Soviet arms deliveries to Egypt itself, indicating the Soviet, might be using Cairo as an arms depot.

High Court Shuns Drag Race Review

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court today refused to review the appeal of a Medina motorist convicted of drag racing.

The action left stand Gary E. Gundlach's sentence of six months in jail, a $500 fine and loss of driving rights for a year. Three months of the jail term and $200 of the fine were suspended under a two-year probation arrangement.

Grundlach and Bruce Johannsen were convicted of drag racing on Ohio 18 in Medina Township last March 27. Gundlach appealed to the Supreme Court after an Appellate Court affirmed his conviction.

Seen 100,000 Gallons of Lost Water in Your Neighborhood?

The hunt for a mystery water leak goes on.

It is possible the city is losing about 100,000 gallons of water a day. City Utilities Manager Ervin Leist reports "We suspect a sizable leak."

Leist said that water pumping is up about 100,000 gallons a day over last year. No reason has been found for the increased volume, since most concerns that use large amounts of water have reported no increased consumption.

Water pumping jumped suddenly about January 6. It has been running unusually high since that date. During January 1960 average daily use was 735,000 gallons. This year the average daily use in January was 904,000 gallons.

Leist said it is possible there is a large leak. Investigation so far has turned up nothing definite. There has been no increase in sewage flow which more or less eliminates the possibility water may be getting into the sanitary sewer system.

It has been difficult to check storm sewers because of the thaw. Mail carriers have been asked to watch for signs of a leak—bubbling water, wet spots. The public is urged to call the Water Department if any signs of a large leak appear.

Northern U.S. Is Cool, Wet Again Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was cool and wet again today across most of the northern tier of states but a mid-winter mild spell continued in many other sections of the nation.

More rain, along with gusty winds, was reported in the Pacific northwest. The rain headed into northern and central California and Nevada. Light snow flurries fell in the northern midwest areas and in northern New England.

The cool belt extended from the extreme northwest plains into the Dakotas, the Upper Mississippi Valley and the northern Great Lakes Region. Temperatures dipped into the teens and lower.

Readings were in the 30s and 40s in much of the Rocky Mountain region, the central plains and the middle Mississippi Valley northward to New England.

But warmer weather, with temperatures in the 50s and 60s, prevailed in most of the southern states, with the 40s and 50s in the Pacific Coast states.

Warm air from the gulf sent the mercury to the mid 70s Tuesday in the gulf and south Atlantic states, with the 60s extending northward into Nebraska, Missouri, Kentucky and central and southern Virginia.

Tempers Ruffled In Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Indignation—real and fancied, political and sincere—ran wild in the Ohio Statehouse today over bills to revise unemployment compensation and to finance state operations the next two years.

It is a matter of personal feeling which indignation is the real McCoy.

A completely revised bill to extend jobless benefits another 13 weeks during Ohio's present unemployment crisis was reported to the House Industry and Labor Committee, but full-committee approval was delayed. Democrats were indignant because the measure would cut out some of the liberalized provisions they inserted in the jobless benefits law two years ago. Final committee action may come tonight.

Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle is unhappy with Republican House Speaker Roger Cloud. He accused Cloud of cutting off consideration of school and welfare improvements "without a fair trial." He referred to Republican introduction of a bob-tailed appropriations bill brought into balance, at least on paper, through the application of administration-suggested amendments.

Speaker Cloud, while doubting there is any profit in engaging in a personal feud with the governor, asserted the introduction of a balanced budget at least gives the House Finance Committee a place to start its lengthy hearings. He added the Republican-controlled legislature intends to follow early the 1960 platform pledge of the Ohio GOP which reads:

"Wise actions by the General Assembly require intense study, debate and conscientious decisions by its members."

3 TV Networks Schedule Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP)—All three major television networks plan live coverage of President Kennedy's news conference tonight.

The Columbia Broadcasting System, which earlier had said it would rebroadcast the 7 p. m. EST conference at a later hour, said Tuesday night it had changed its mind.

The network cited "overriding reason" for the change—the situation in the Congo following the death of ex-Premier Lumumba, and the announcement that Kennedy will make a major statement on the nation's economy.

The National and American Broadcasting companies announced last week they would carry the half-hour conference on a live basis.

City Quick on Action

PIKEVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Suda Weddington got fast action when she appeared before city officials to complain the street in front of her house was dirty. They gave her a broom, explaining the street budget was limited.

Conservancy District OK'd By Pickaway County Solons

Pickaway County has officially joined in efforts to establish a five county Scioto Conservancy District.

Yesterday the Pickaway County Commissioners approved a resolution deeming formation of a conservancy district "essential to the citizens of this county."

The City of Columbus earlier this month filed with Franklin County Common Pleas Court a petition for the formation of a conservancy district. It was to include Franklin, Pickaway, Ross, Pike, Vinton and Scioto counties.

However, Vinton County, of which only a small part lies in the Scioto River watershed, has asked to be eliminated from the district. The request won't hinder formation of a five-county district.

Franklin County Common Pleas Judge Kenneth L. Sater has approved the petition. Ross County commissioners have OK'd the petition and now so have the Pickaway County Commissioners.

According to state law only one petition for formation of a conservancy district is necessary. However, additional petitions, such as the one approved yesterday by the Pickaway County Commissioners, are added to the original petition.

Since Judge Sater has OK'd the City of Columbus' petition, he now has to take the next step in the proceedings. That is calling a meeting of all Common Pleas Judges of the counties involved.

Sater has notified Pickaway County Judge William Ammer that a meeting of judges will be held February 27 at Columbus. The judges meet in session and are called the Scioto Conservancy District Court.

At the February 27 meeting the full debate and conscientious decisions by its members."

The unemployment compensation bill was another kettle of fish. Both labor and management—said the chief sponsor, Rep. William Milligan, R-Shelby—are moaning low. This combination of indignation, Milligan asserted, leads the House Industry and Labor Committee to the conclusion that it must be a good bill.

But Rep. Francis Rno, D-Lucas asserted: "This bill establishes a new dimension in legislative shenanigans."

Economy Spur Speedup Ahead

Kennedy Is Expected To Give Data Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is reported planning to announce tonight a speedup in spending of some federal funds in a fresh effort to spur the lagging economy and reduce unemployment.

Informed officials said they understood the President intends to make such an announcement at his news conference scheduled for 7 p. m. EST. The conference will be broadcast live on nationwide television and radio.

On the international front, Kennedy faces questioning about his views on the crises in the Congo and in the United Nations resulting from the assassination of deposed Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba. Heightening the tension are Soviet demands that the matter be dealt with on Soviet terms.

The domestic anticongress measures Kennedy is said to have decided upon would not require action by Congress.

There was no immediate word regarding details, but the Kennedy plans are reported to call for issuing new administrative orders to a few federal agencies for spending money faster than planned on some government programs.

Indications are that such speedier spending would not be on any massive scale. The idea is to pump some additional money into the economy, pending congressional consideration of the Kennedy legislative program, aimed at business recovery, easing of unemployment hardship and reduction of joblessness.

Administration officials and Democratic congressional leaders clearly are becoming increasingly concerned about the recession.

Both Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg and House Speaker Sam Rayburn have indicated that mounting concern starts at the top, with Kennedy. The Cabinet officer and the speaker have told reporters that the President will have something to say about the situation at his meeting with newsmen.

Valentine to Milkman Is Quickly Retrieved

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Like a lot of other people, 8-year-old Becky Givens got the Valentine's Day spirit.

As a result, her mother's note to the milkman, decorated with an arrow-pointed heart, read: "2 half gallons, 2 quarts chocolate, 1 orange, I love you."

Mrs. Givens spotted the note in the milk bottle and retrieved it before the milkman arrived Tuesday.

The hearing must take place within 60 days after the conservancy court meets. At the hearing objections of all property owners who live within the district will be heard.

If the court decides that a district is needed, it will declare a district organized and give it an official name. In addition, the court will designate the place where the office will be.

Envoy Says America Won't Stand by Idly

Troublemakers In Congo Get Stevenson Warning

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson today denounced the Soviet Union's latest Congo move as a "declaration of war against the United Nations. The United States, he said, does not intend to stand by idly while others cause trouble in the Congo."

Stevenson addressed a tense meeting of the U. N. Security Council which was disrupted by the worst public demonstration in the history of the world organization. It took 15 minutes to clear the public galleries and restore order.

The demonstrators, about ten Negro supporters of slain Congolese leader Patrice Lumumba, forced their way into the galleries through a back door and interrupted Stevenson's speech with shouts of "Vive Lumumba." Fighting broke out when the guards tried to expel the demonstrators.

Stevenson called the manifestation "obviously organized."

He spoke out firmly against a Soviet resolution calling for the withdrawal of U. N. forces from the Congo within one month. The Security Council, he said, must rally its strength behind Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to prevent any weakening of the U. N. role.

"Does this council favor abandoning security for insecurity and anarchy?" He asked. "Does the Soviet Government really want Africans to kill Africans? The United States does not and it devoutly hopes the Soviet Union does not."

He said of the Soviet resolution:

"This resolution is a declaration of war on the United Nations and on the principle of international action in behalf of peace."

Turning to the Soviet attack on Hammarskjold, the U.S. delegate said:

"To attempt to discredit the secretary general would not only wreck the U. N. mission in the Congo but would dangerously weaken the United Nations itself."

Addressing the Soviet delegate directly, Stevenson declared:

"Are we to callously cast aside the one and only instrument men have set up to safeguard their future?"

"This issue even transcends the fate of the suffering 14 million Cong people."

"The issue is simply this: Shall the United Nations survive?"

The Soviets seized on the assassination of former Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba to step up their campaign, launched last September by Soviet Premier Khrushchev in his table-thumping appearance before the United Nations, to revamp that organization in a Moscow mold.

The strongly-worded Soviet resolution accused Hammarskjold of being "an accomplice and organizer" of Lumumba's slaying while in the hands of his political enemies. Earlier the Soviets declared they would have no more dealings with the secretary-general.

The United States immediately pledged support to Hammarskjold. Britain and Italy charged the Soviets with trying to exploit Lumumba's death to install a Soviet-subservient regime in the Congo.

Indian spokesmen also called for continuance of U. N. operations in the Congo as offering the only chance to prevent civil war that major powers in another Korean-style conflagration.

The Soviet resolution also

54 Americans Die In Belgian Crash

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Fifty-four Americans, including the entire U.S. figure skating team perished today in the flaming crash of a Sabena Belgian Airlines jet. In all, the crash of the American-built Boeing 707 brought death to 73 persons.

Disaster struck at 10:05 a.m. as the $5-million plane, its engines suddenly sounding odd, sought a landing in bright sunshine after a flight from New York.

The huge plane slammed to earth beside a woods three miles north of Brussels International Airport and went up in flames fed by fuel oil as the tanks exploded one by one.

All 61 passengers and the crew of 11 died. A Belgian farmer tilling his cabbage patch was struck and killed.

The 17-member skating team and its coach were flying to compete in the world championships at Prague. The skaters were among 61 passengers, and officials said all but seven of the passengers were Americans. The big Boeing jet carried a crew of 11.

With the team was Mrs. Maribel Vinson Owen of Winchester,

LAURENCE OWEN

Mass., nine-time U.S. figure-skating champion.

Her daughter Laurence, 16, the only U.S. winner in the North American championships that ended Sunday in Philadelphia, led the team.

In addition to Miss Owen, the members of the U.S. skating team were Steffi Westerfield, Colorado Springs, Colo.; Rhodie Michelson, Long Beach, Calif.; Bradley Lord, Boston; Gregory Kelley, Colorado Springs; Douglas Ramsay, Detroit; Dudley Richards, Boston; Ray and Ila Rae Hadley, of Seattle; Bill and Laurie Hickox, Colorado Springs; Larry Pierce, Indianapolis; Diane Sherbloom, Los Angeles; Robert Campbell, Los Angeles; Donna Lee Carrier, Los Angeles; Bob and Pat Dineen, New York; and Deane McMinn, the coach and manager, of Loma, Calif.

Theo de Leat, 24, a Belgian peasant who was working in the field when the plane crashed, was crushed under the wreckage.

In addition to Mrs. Owen and her daughter, Laurence, a second daughter, Maribel, 20, also perished in the accident.

Laurence only a few weeks previously had won the U.S. national title at Colorado Springs, Colo., where Maribel and her partner, Dudley Richards, 28, of Boston, had taken the national seniors pairs title.

Mrs. Owen—or Maribel as she was known around ice rinks—was third to Sonja Henie in the women's figure skating division of the 1932 Olympics.

A vivacious and talented individual, who did newspaper work and wrote magazine articles in addition to her interest in figure skating, Mrs. Owen served as figure skating expert for The Associated Press at the 1948 Olympic Games in St. Moritz, Switzerland; the 1952 games at Oslo, Norway; the 1956 games at Cortina D'Ampezzo in Italy, and the 1960 games at Squaw Valley, Calif.

Fast in the mathematical computations of figure skating scoring—probably the most intricate scoring system in the world of sports—she was able to pinpoint winners long before the official announcements were made.

Her greatest pride was her figure skating children, and she achieved one of her ambitions when Laurence—pronounced lo-ranhs—with the accent on the second syllable—won the North American title last week. The next goal would have been the world championship, and then the Olympics.

Ohio Pen Trusty Goes for Stroll

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An Ohio Penitentiary trusty was hunted today after walking away from a work detail at the Bureau of Motor Vehicles tag warehouse Tuesday afternoon.

He is Thomas L. Wilson, 37, of Dayton, who had served four years of a 20-year to life term from Hamilton County for bank burglary and auto theft, Warden Beryl Sacks reported.

The six-foot, 145-pound escapee was wearing a brown felt hat, gray leather jacket, khaki trousers and brown shoes, the warden said. Wilson is nearly bald and wears thick horn-rimmed glasses.

Check Forger Forced To Use Short Name

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A man booked into city jail gave his name as Patrick O'Conedoneg-baugh.

He was charged with forging the name of "Patrick O'Day" on a check.

One officer remarked, "Heck, maybe he just couldn't get all of his name on the check."

State Offers New Program For Acquisition of Land

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A program for land acquisition in Ohio for water management and recreation was handed Gov. Michael V. DiSalle today.

The program, listing several methods for acquisition including loans from state retirement funds to be repaid possibly by admission charges to state parks, was submitted by Director Harold B. Eagon of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

Eagon said Ohio needs an additional half million acres in the next 10 years, to cost an estimated $100 million. For the immediate future, the program calls for: Adoption of a long-range program for future resource development, financed separately from current short-term natural resources programs.

For about $5 million to be made available to launch the program in 1962-63, the funds to come from general revenues, certain rotary funds, loans from retirement funds or bond issues.

Areas approved for acquisition to be announced after funds are available to avoid speculation and inflationary prices.

A more comprehensive report and recommendations to be submitted to the governor and Legislature by July 1, 1962.

DiSalle said no funds are now available for what Eagon termed "a modest beginning" of his program and there are no specific plans for any funds.

But the governor asked Eagon to prepare legislation for the Legislature to expand the present law allowing the highway department to borrow from the teachers, state employees and school employees' retirement systems and the workmen's compensation fund for advance purchase of highway rights-of-way.

All-Star Game Verdict Delayed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The issue on the future of high school all-star football and basketball games still hang in the balance after Tuesday night's long state board of control meeting at the offices of the Ohio High School Athletic Association.

After the long session the board tabled the matter until Monday, Feb. 20, when a decision is expected.

The issue came up again when the NCAA decided that boys participating in non-sanctioned all-star games would be ineligible for one year of collegiate competition.

Ohio has never officially sanctioned any all-star game, claiming no control over the boys after graduation. All-star games are played with graduates only.

The plaintiff, Big Ten Construction Co., alleges in their petition that a total sum of $1,390 is due and unpaid them by the defendants, James and Ann Denman.

Plaintiff further states that it furnished labor, and material in and for constructing, altering, erecting and improving a house located on real estate owned by the defendants.

Also named as defendants in the lawsuit are Kelly Leu West and the Circleville Building Supplies Inc. The petition states that the last two defendants "have some interest in the premises."

THE construction company is asking that the premises be sold and the proceeds of the sale be applied to payment of the amount due.

Richard W. Penn represents the plaintiff.

Vet Fireman Ray Anderson Ends 31 Years of Service

Ray Anderson, 65, of 204 E. Mound St., has completed 31 eventful years with the Circleville Fire Department.

The veteran firemen served his last day as a fireman Saturday. The retirement will be effective March 1. He currently is on a two-weeks vacation.

Anderson started his fireman career Feb. 1, 1930. Many fires and interesting events cropped up between that time and the present.

The firefighter will pack away his CFD coat and boots, but he is slated to continue his parttime job here as deputy sealer of weights and measures for Pickaway County.

FIRES in the Circleville area have ranged in proportion and size during Anderson's long tenure. He easily remembers the giant fire at the old Strawboard which came in his first year with the department.

A few years later there was the raging gasoline fire at the Circleville Oil Co. on W. Mound St. In more modern times was the devastating blaze which destroyed the old Maizo Mills plant on W. Main St.

Added to Anderson's exciting work were the four airplane crashes over the years in Circleville, resulting in seven persons killed. He helped pull several of the bodies from the planes.

Times have changed since Anderson served his first year of duty. At one time he was on duty every other day of the year, 24

Sparks Ignite Roof Shingles

Warren Hobbie, Atlanta, early today reported the roof of a building on the Atlanta School Farm caught fire.

Hobbie said sparks from a chimney apparently ignited wooden shingles. Damage was estimated at $150.

Deputy Sheriff Alva Boyer said the blaze was brought under control by the New Holland Fire Department. Firemen from the Williamsport Department stood by.

The building is owned by the Westfall School District.

Non-Support Case

William J. Johnson, Columbus, was bound to the Pickaway County Grand Jury today by Circleville Municipal Court on a charge of non-support.

Bond was set at $500. The affidavit was filed by Mary Merriman.

charged Belgium with prime responsibility for Lumumba's death and called for sanctions against the Congo's former ruler.

The resolution demanded the arrest of Katanga Province President Moise Tshombe, in whose province Lumumba was killed, and Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, the army chief of President Joseph Kasavubu's regime, and the disarming of all troops and police under their control.

The Soviets also demanded the immediate disarmament and withdrawal from the Congo of all Belgian forces and all Belgian personnel.

Some Asian and African nations were reported favoring adoption of penalties against Belgium if that country failed to withdraw both its civilian and military personnel from the Congo.

Belgian Foreign Minister Pierre Wigny in Brussels vehemently denied again that Belgium had anything to do with the arrest and death of the man they installed as head of the independent Congo government eight months ago.

Stevenson told the U.N. Correspondents Association the United States is still working for a constructive and workable solution of the Congo crisis, but he acknowledged the situation is grave.

Hammarskjold maintained a strict silence on the Soviet demands for the U.N. withdrawal from the Congo and his own dismissal.

A City Service Department crew today was filling an old fire cistern with sand at the corner of Ohio and Washington Sts.

Fire cisterns are located throughout the city. They were built before the present fire hydrant system was installed. Some of them are still usable, but the one at Ohio and Washington Sts. will no longer hold water. The ground around the cistern has begun to sink. Therefore, the filling job.

Two local newspapers which date back to the 1870's were discovered recently in Kingston.

A June 7, 1872 copy of the "Herald and Union," and a "Herald" edition dated Oct. 2, 1872 were found in the home of Evandine Stoneburner, Kingston. The papers were discovered while removing a closet in the Stoneburner home.

The Herald and Union paper, Republican newspaper was backing Grant for President, and Henry Wilson for Vice-President of the United States. The paper was published by Thomas and Fletcher, editors and proprietors.

W. S. McColister and Ivan Wolfley were the publishers of the Herald, a Democratic paper in October, 1872.

The information was received here today by a friend of the Stoneburners, Tom Rainey, Kingston.

Opposition to Legal Executions

American Bar Foundation, research branch of the American Bar Association, has some pertinent comments about the delay in carrying out the death penalty which is causing many persons to lose confidence in capital punishment.

While there are a considerable number of cases involving long delays in execution, the foundation started its study after the execution of Caryl Chessman last May which had world-wide reverberations.

"The average citizen is exposed constantly to dramatizations of the criminal process on the screen, on television, radio and in all forms of literature," says the report "Defects in the process, whether actual, apparent or imaginary, easily catch the public fancy. The legal profession must therefore be especially alert to problems as they arise in criminal justice administration, else the law in general will be held in disrepute."

Of the 227 persons executed in the U. S.

from 1956 through 1959, says the foundation, elapsed time between sentencing and execution exceeded a year in more than half the cases. In 15 cases the victim waited four years in the death house. Yet some statutes require an average of about three months for carrying out the penalty.

While the foundation did not debate the merits of capital punishment, the very fact that society is so dilatory about carrying out the extreme penalty strongly suggests substantial opposition to legal executions.

Where Is Jack-of-All-Trades?

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Whatever happened to the Jack-of-all-trades?

In our pioneer past practically every frontier settler had to battle the wilderness almost single-handed. He had to be a man of many talents to survive.

As time passed and our civilization grew more complex, the original pioneer American Jack-of-all-trades tended to vanish from the scene. Men learned to specialize in a single craft or art.

But the tradition of the Jack-of-all-trades endured and was kept alive by a new fellow on the scene—the general handy man.

Every community had at least one, and usually several.

The handy man wasn't exactly looked up to by his neighbors. He was characteristically a rugged individualist who didn't like the idea of settling down to one job or one boss—or even one wife.

He was a colorful character who prized his own freedom, worked only when he wanted to, and often was strongly addicted to chawin' terbaccer and bottled grain.

But whenever he dropped by sober and knocked on the back door, the general handy man was welcome in most households. They needed his skills. For a dollar or so, a meal or two, and maybe an old coat or pair of pants, he would cut the lawn, carry out the ashes, beat the rugs, fix a leaky roof or mend a drain pipe.

Whatever chore had to be done, he could find a way to do it. And he had one unbeatable virtue—it didn't cost much to hire him.

That old-fashioned type of handy man is almost impossible to find nowadays.

The new type of handy man is also difficult to find now—and he is a completely different kind of character. He is usually married, industrious, busy as a beehive—and almost as businesslike as a banker. In fact he is a one-man industry.

The trouble is that when you want him in a hurry, he's often tied up on another job, and if he is free—well his time isn't.

An experienced general handy man can earn from $150 to $200 a week or more in some areas—and does.

His high cost and unavailability when needed in an emergency has resulted in the rise of a completely new Jack-of-all-trades—the suburban housewife.

Necessity has made her a jill-of-all-trades.

In America's burgeoning suburbs today there are thousands of housewives who can outdo the pioneer mothers of yore in many ways.

They don't make soap or help fight off the Indians. But many of them can handle minor plumbing jobs, put up wallpaper, paint a house, fix a broken vacuum cleaner, rewire a floor lamp—and do 1,001 other things necessary to keep a home in order.

Smart husbands encourage these new jills-of-all-trades to learn as many skills as possible. And for a very good reason.

State, Church Schools Eyed

By George Sokolsky

William J. Ryan, Sr., of Brooklyn writes me:

"Mr. Sokolsky, many of us would appreciate an article or two by you on the question of public funds to aid private (sectarian) education."

Nothing in the Constitution says anything about the separation of Church and State. Nor one word appears either in the body of the Constitution or in its Amendments which can be correctly construed as limiting education to a secular curriculum. The only reference to the subject is in the First Amendment which contains the clause:

"Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; . . ."

The term, "an establishment of a religion," taken in its meaning when the Constitution was written, can only refer to an established church, namely, one that is recognized as official, say, such as the Anglican Church in Great Britain, the Roman Catholic Church in Brazil, Judaism in Israel.

The term has nothing to do with the free exercise of religion by citizens who may accept any church of their choice and change from one religion to another. Nor does it in any way forbid a state to establish a religion as the State of Massachusetts taxed its citizens to support the Congregational Church up to 1833. In fact, it has generally been held that religion is a matter for each state and not for the Federal Government to deal with.

Sunday-closing laws are therefore passed or not passed by State Legislatures not by Congress; released time for public school pupils to be educated in the religion of their forebears is a state not a national issue. Had the Mormons not got into a controversy with the Federal Government over bigamy, Utah could have had a state religion.

Religious institutions appeared at the very beginning of our history. The Episcopalians were here in 1607; the Roman Catholics in 1539; the Jews in 1654. The Congregationalists who became so important in New England appeared in America in 1620 and the Methodists in 1766.

The term separation of Church and State has gained excessive currency in recent years. Most of our early universities were established by religious groups, some to train their clergymen. Prior to the Revolutionary War, all the colleges and universities in America had been established by Protestant churches.

In 1791, a Catholic college was established in Georgetown, which is now part of Washington D. C., by Archbishop John Carroll of Maryland. The right of religious denominations to establish their own universities has never been questioned since the Dartmouth College case in 1819, in which the Chief Justice, John Marshall, held that a charter given to a college could not be transformed by acts of the State Legislatures.

This decision has never been changed either by constitutional Amendments or legislative action. Chancellor James Kent said of this case:

"... did more than any other single act proceeding from the authority of the United States to throw an impregnable barrier around all rights and franchises derived from the grant of government; and to give solidity and inviolability to the literary, charitable, religious, and commercial institutions of our country."

Since then, however, some of the sectarian universities such as Columbia which was Episcopalian or Princeton which was Presbyterian have become secular institutions. However, the Roman Catholics have established a large number of universities such as Fordham, Notre Dame, Villanova, etc. The Jews have established Yeshiva University in New York.

All schools, colleges and universities, secular or denominational, are usually subsidized by both the state and Federal governments by being exempted from taxation. Without this exemption, these institutions could not exist. Such large contributors to education as the various foundations usually do not discriminate against schools or colleges because of their religious or non-religious affiliations.

This is the situation as it exists at this moment. The present assumption by Roman Catholics is that President Kennedy's school aid program will be entirely secular and already Cardinal Spellman has voiced a protest. As, however, the program has not yet been presented to Congress in the form of an act of legislation, it is not final that the proposed school legislation in Congress will discriminate against religious educational institutions.

The proposed New York State legislation to give each student $200 is really a measure to help support denominational colleges without raising the issue of the separation of Church and State.

Flashing Purchase

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Electrifying is the word for the young lady who entered a photo supply shop and bought a roll of film and some flash bulbs.

"When she was about half way to the door, there was this funny flash," said Gene Kramer, a store employee. "She came back and said, 'My flash bulbs exploded.' The six bulbs on one side of the carton were burned out. The package was hot."

The puzzled Kramer, who gave the young woman new film and bulbs, said he had never heard of such a thing. Neither had the manufacturer of the bulbs.

Approximately 200 persons attended the three-act plays given by members of the Sorosis Club, Saturday evening.

In the opening play "Never Trust a Man" the characters were misled that Rose was to receive a ring, from George which they thought to be an engagement ring only to discover it was a ring on the telephone for the two to sing a duet at the church.

In "Needle, Tread and Jabber" the ladies Sewing Circle was interrupted by the adolescent daughter of the hostess, and the maid spilling the refreshments on the floor. They were discouraged from their sewing when their husbands sent their own worn clothing to be mended.

In the final play "Did You Say Mink?" Mrs. Martin advertised for a maid by offering the use of her Mink Coat on days off only to find the applicants were more interested in the "Genuine Mink" rather than the work involved.

Music between acts was furnished by Barbara Jo McDill, Kathleen McOmber, Mrs. Cooke Metzger and Diana Reynolds.

Mrs. Ida Ware, director, was presented a gift for her effort in making the plays a success.

The World Today

By James Marlow

NEW YORK (AP)—The new accent on youth may soon extend from the White House right into the machinery in our factories.

President Kennedy says too much of our industrial equipment is too old. He wants business to speed up the modernization of its plant. He says the government will help.

"The average age of equipment in American factories today is about nine years," the President says. "In a dynamic economy that average should be falling, as new equipment is put into place. Instead, the available evidence suggests that it has been slowly rising."

He has renewed his pledge of quickly seeking tax reform to help business update its plants.

The President has still to spell out exactly what tax changes. But business interprets them to be largely in the field of depreciation allowances. Many business spokesmen have deplored present tax policy as holding back building of new plants and buying the latest equipment. This keeps operating costs higher here and helps make American prices higher than those of foreign manufacturers.

President Kennedy agrees that we have fallen behind in the competitive race. He notes that other nations have been lowering the average age of their plants and machinery. He names as an example West Germany, where at least two-fifths of the plant and equipment is under five years of age.

Other lands allow faster write-off of new investment in tax accounting. Some allow revaluation of assets in recognition of higher replacement costs. This lowers corporate tax payments and gives companies more funds with which to buy new equipment.

The United States has granted fast write-offs for some plants and equipment held essential for national defense. But in the main its policies still hold to a standard which, though varied, averages around 20 years. That is, the life of much machinery is held to be 20 years. Companies spread depreciation allowances over 20 years.

They complain that they can't replace the old plant and tools for anything like what they cost—that is, for anything like the total of their depreciation allowances.

To buy new equipment they must find money somewhere—by raising prices to boost profits, by borrowing.

Many insist that this is keeping them from modernizing their plants. This has cut the totals spent on capital goods in the last year, and that has been a factor in the downturn in general business activity.

There are two tax reforms the President could propose.

One would speed up the time in which a new machine could be depreciated for tax purposes—five years, say instead of 20. This would give companies temporary relief. After the five years the machine would be fully taxable as an asset and its production taxable as income without benefit of allowances. But there would be an incentive to buy still newer equipment.

The other would be to let companies value their present machinery at replacement cost instead of its much lower cost at time of purchase. This would grant a longer-range relief.

Housewives Are Among Biggest Calorie Spenders

Housewives are among the nation's biggest spenders — of calories.

Her daily tasks can cost her 4 to 7 calories per minute.

Meanwhile her desk - job husband is spending 1.5 to 2, the steel worker 3 to 4.

All this can have great bearing on a woman's calorie savings bank, and her figure.

For calories are like money. Put too much in the bank, and the account swells. Spend more — even a little more every day — and the savings dwindle.

Just how much total energy or calories housewives spend varies far more than that of factory workers performing the same job in the factory, says Dr. Herman K. Hellerstein of Western Reserve University Medical School, Cleveland.

Much depends on the size of her house, how many children she tends or pursues, how many labor-saving appliances she enlists.

Dr. Hellerstein, an authority in measuring the energy costs of various jobs, cites these housekeeping spending figures:

Stripping and changing bed linens — 5.5 calories per minute. Simply tidying beds — about 4. Cleaning windows — 3.5 to 4. Scrubbing floors on hands and knees — 7.

Putting washing through a mangle — up to 7. Carrying out and hanging up wash — 4.5 to 5, and more if the wash is carried up steps. Washing lingerie by hand — 3. Ironing — 4.2 per minute.

Automatic machines cut the cost sharply.

Gardening — up to 5 or 6, particularly with digging and spading.

Lions Auxiliary Plans Dinner-Meet

Lions Auxiliary members and husbands will hold a covered-dinner and meeting starting at 6 p.m. Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dick, 341 E. Franklin St.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

It's Your Life, Lady!

DEAR ABBY: I am a married woman who has a very dear friend. She and I always do our marketing and errands together because she has a car and I do not.

I suppose you'll think I'm terrible for complaining, but she drives like a maniac. Every time I get into her car I feel like I'm taking my life in my hands. She speeds, goes through red lights and talks so much she doesn't watch where she's going. Do I dare tell her she is a poor driver? Or should I keep quiet and try to get out of riding with her?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: I am constantly amazed at the number of people who wouldn't dream of eating in a home where the food might be poisoned, yet they'll get into an automobile with a driver who is careless, incompetent and even intoxicated. Tell your friend you refuse to drive with her unless she drives safely and obeys the laws.

DEAR ABBY: I was recently engaged and people have been CONGRATULATING me! I was very well brought up and was taught that when a woman marries, it is the husband who is congratulated. The wife is given "best wishes." What do you say to those rude and ignorant people who say "congratulations" to a bride as though she had finally captured a rhinoceros?

ANGRY

DEAR ANGRY: Say "Thank you." Anything else would reveal that you weren't as "well brought up" as you think.

DEAR ABBY: My ex-husband has been writing to me constantly, telling me what a fool he was to give me up. He wants me to break up my home and come back to him.

I have been married for 15 years to another man and we have a fine family. My ex-husband is also remarried and has children of his own. (We never had children together.)

I tell him to forget about me, and stay with his present family. I've tried to discourage him in every way I can, but he keeps on writing and pleading. How can I put a stop to this? I hate to hurt him. I was never too crazy about him when I was married to him.

EX-WIFE
DEAR EX-WIFE: Return his letters, unopened.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "MADAME BUTTERFLY": Have nothing more to do with him until he can give you proof (from a physician) that he is 100 per cent well.

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply from Abby, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Make your dreams come true!

U.S. Ahead in Knowledge; Russia More Spectacular

EDITOR'S NOTE — The conquest of space is an adventure for all mankind, but the space age was born in the shadow of the military, and it still is sharply affected by the great cold war rivalry. In this second of three articles, American and Soviet achievements are compared.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — In 40 months, 45 satellites have soared up successfully from the United States and Soviet Russia. The Soviets put up 11, this country 34.

The Soviet Union leads in spectacular, impressive firsts and in weights. In quick succession this month she put up a record-breaking seven-ton Sputnik, then capped this with a huge satellite which went into orbit, and then launched from space a 1,400-pound probe aimed at perhaps hitting or going into orbit around Venus.

The reach toward Venus opened a new, fourth phase of Soviet space age efforts. Until now, the Soviet Union has been bunched her shots in triple plays, each concerned with a different aspect or region of space.

Her first three Sputniks orbited the earth.

Then in 1959, she reached for the moon, hitting it, photographing its back side, and sending one probe past the moon to become the first little man-made planet of the sun. The United States later sent two probes into orbit around the sun, one of them radioing back space findings over a record distance of 22½ million miles.

Abruptly, the Soviets dropped the moon, and last year sent three spacehips, weighing up to five tons, orbiting near the earth.

In a brilliant feat, the Soviets brought back part of their second spaceship containing two dogs. The time seemed near to launch a man, but in December the capsule of the third ship failed to obey command signals and burned up. Two dogs, other animals, insect and plant life all perished.

It was a rare if not the first official Soviet admission of any mishap in her space shoots.

Last weekend, the Soviets opened the interplanetary phase, with the new feat of launching a Venus probe from space itself. She had remained curiously silent about the seven-ton Sputnik, but then one Soviet space official said it had been intended mainly to learn whether such a heavy satellite could be put and kept into a precise orbit.

The Sputnik launching the Venus messenger might have been another seven-ton affair.

The Soviets have behaved like eager explorers pioneering into an unknown continent—not waiting to settle and cultivate one region before roaring out to make first contact with another.

Her fifth venture could be man into space.

Some Western experts believe the Soviets embarked in 1956 or earlier on a plan to send man into space. This would be at least two years ahead of the start of the U.S. program.

Sputnik II, carrying the dog Laika in November 1957, is taken as one sign of such intent.

rockets, but using ingenious miniaturized equipment, the American program has been more diversified, and more broadly based.

The United States clearly leads, most experts say, in gleaming new scientific knowledge from and about space, and in cultivating space for valuable practical applications.

Tiros satellites photographing clouds and measuring earth temperatures took the first step toward keen weather eyes in space. Samos II, just put up by the Air Force, is using cameras which could serve as military scouts.

Echo, the shiny balloon, and Courier satellites are preparing the way for a space network to relay civilian telephone calls, TV and radio programs, and military commands.

Transit satellites augur artificial stars supplying exquisitely accurate navigational fixes for ships and planes.

But even greater benefits could come from basic knowledge being learned about earth, air, space and sun.

U.S. satellites discovered the Van Allen radiation belts.

U.S. satellites have explored more vigorously and keenly the earth's magnetic and gravitational fields, the great pulses of atomic particles hurled at the earth by gigantic explosions on the sun, the ionosphere, upper atmosphere, the pressure exerted by sunlight, the shape of the earth.

From such studies of the sun's effects on earth could come better understandings of what makes our weather, and perhaps one day to control it.

Knowledge is coming like fruit falling from a tree, says Dr. Robert Jastrow, chief of the theoretical division of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The Soviets have published far fewer reports on their findings, he adds. Since their moon shots, they appear to have lost momentum in studying aspects of space near earth.

He feels the Soviets have attracted fewer scientists with original and imaginative ideas to their space program—perhaps because such scientists are more desperately needed in other fields.

First in developing great booster rockets, the Soviet Union can loft up far heavier payloads, and can equip satellites with excellent guidance controls.

But mammoth boosters are being developed here, too. And the U.S. space program calls for a variety of exciting feats in this year and decade.

Next: space plans ahead.

Dan Cupid Is Busy On Valentine's Day

CLEVELAND (AP) — Business was booming Tuesday in at least one Cleveland office — the marriage license office at the Cuyahoga County Courthouse. Three clerks at the bureau said it had been a long time since they had seen so many customers. There were 25 new applications and 40 licenses issued—"and that's a lot," said the tired clerks after the busy St. Valentine's Day rush was over.

Steel Union Loses 12,000 Dues-Payers

CLEVELAND (AP)—More than 12,000 dues-paying members of District 28 of the United Steelworkers, which covers the Cleveland and Lorain areas, have been lost in a little more than one year.

Paul E. Schremp, district director, said Monday that the drop started shortly after the end of the 116-day steel strike in 1959. At that time there were 35,000 dues-paying members. Now there are only 23,000.

Schremp said he could not say how many of the 23,000 are working full time, "but they are paying dues."

"Some of them might be on a full week, others on four days or a few days a week," he said. "Others might be working one week on and one week off."

He said some might be paying dues because they also are receiving unemployment benefits if they are on the week-on and week-off basis. "We do know that 12,000 are not paying dues into our union."

The district includes employees of the U.S. Steel Corp., American Steel & Wire Co., Republic Steel Corp., Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., American Steel & Wire Co., Republic Steel Corp., Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., all in Cleveland; and U.S. Steel Corp. workers at the National Tube Co. in Lorain.

Brink's Robbery Defendant Dies In Prison Hospital

WALPOLE, Mass. (AP)—Death has claimed one of the eight men sentenced to life imprisonment for the nation's biggest cash robbery — the $1,219,000 looting of Brink's Armored Money Transfer Service in Boston 11 years ago.

Henry Baker, 54, died Monday night in the Norfolk Prison Colony Hospital of bronchial pneumonia. He was taken there Sunday after he was stricken at the state prison.

A band of armed men in Halloween masks swept into Brink's Boston office the night of Jan. 17, 1950, quickly harvested the treasure and vanished for 6½ years.

Then, with statutes of limitation running out, the FBI broke the case. That agency said there were 11 participants, but only eight were brought to trial. Two others had died. The 11th, Joseph "Specs" O'Keefe, became the prosecution's chief witness.

Only a pittance of the loot ever has been recovered.

SAC Command Post Is Now Airborne

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—The Strategic Air Command announced today it now has an airborne command post in the air at all times.

SAC started using the "flying headquarters" on a trial basis last July, Gen. Thomas S. Power, SAC commander, said today.

The airborne command posts are intended to take over should the underground control center or its alternates be knocked out. SAC recently announced that part of its B52 bomber force also will be airborne at all times.

Indignation...

The jobless benefits bill, which probably will come to a floor vote in the house next week, would:

Require that workers have at least 30 weeks of employment in the previous year to be eligible for an extra 13 weeks of benefits, an increase from 20 weeks of required employment to qualify for the regular 26 weeks of benefits.

Limit benefit payments to one-half a worker's earnings during his base year.

Prohibit payments to a worker during the weeks he draws vacation pay.

Require six weeks of work on a new job by an employee who voluntarily quits a previous job before he can qualify for benefits after being laid off from his second job. Under present law, he needs only one week on the new job.

As soon as the Republican leadership gets the bill through the House, the Senate will consider it while keeping an eye on Washington. Congress is expected to act on a federal extender of benefits while the Senate is deliberating. The Senate is expected quickly to gear the proposed new Ohio law to the federal law and attach an emergency clause in the process.

The battle over the budget bill got rougher. DiSalle asserted in a prepared statement:

"It is now clear that the Republican leadership has decided not to consider or even to examine Ohio's public programs in terms of their adequacy."

He was talking about the insistence of the GOP leadership that the administration submit suggestions by which the DiSalle budget—calling for spending of about $75 million above anticipated tax revenue in the next two years—could be brought into balance.

Retorted Speaker Cloud:

"An examination of Ohio's public programs in terms of their adequacy is exactly what we Republicans will be undertaking in about three months of hearings. It will be an exhaustive study. Just because we introduced the governor's appropriations bill — after balancing amendments — does not mean we agree with all his spending proposals. Undoubtedly there will be changes."

The amendments, submitted to the House Finance Committee upon request by Finance Director James H. Maloon, struck out the governor's requests for about $40 million more for education and another $25 million for welfare, mental health and corrections.

While the battles ground on, the House and Senate passed two bills each and received 19 new proposals.

One House bill sent to the Senate would require reports to sheriff or police departments of wounds inflicted by firearms or other deadly weapons. Sponsors explained that no report would be required by a housewife who cuts herself with a butcher knife accidentally but that such a wound inflicted by an intruder must be reported.

The other House bill provides for the recording of land contracts, used for installment purchase of real estate, in the same manner as deeds and similar instruments.

Measures passed by the Senate and sent to the House provide a uniform method for county auditors to remove wills from safety deposit boxes for delivery to probate boxes for delivery to probate.

of legal papers on out-of-state pilots whose planes damage property in Ohio.

The Senate refused to concur in a House resolution to print the legislative bulletin every two weeks instead of weekly. Lack of action further delayed the report, printed regularly in the past, on the progress of proposals through the legislature, although sessions now are in their seventh week.

Rep. Myrl H. Shoemaker, D-Ross, introduced a measure to require the calling of a special election within 10 days of a vacancy in Ohio's delegation to the U.S. House of Representatives.

Such an election would have to be held within 60 days after a vacancy caused by death, resignation or other reasons unless regular or primary elections fell within that period. Special elections would coincide with regular elections for economy reasons in such cases.

Shoemaker recalled that the seat of Democratic congressman James Polk in the 6th District of Southern Ohio remained vacant for about 19 months after his death in April 1959, because Gov. Michael V. DiSalle failed to call a special election earlier. Last November William Harsha Jr., Portsmouth Republican, was elected to the regular two-year term.

Other new proposals would: Cancel state hospital patient care charges delinquent more than 21 years.

Appropriate $16 million for a hospital in Cuyahoga County to care for mentally retarded children.

Permit operation of a county home as a county hospital upon approval of county commissioners.

Make Great Lakes seamen eligible for unemployment compensation in off-seasons.

Create a permanent seven-member commission in the Welfare Department to deal with problems of the aging.

Permit boards of education to spend up to $1,000 to inform voters on bond issues or tax levies up for decision at the polls.

The House Taxation Committee at its initial hearing on three bills to end use of sales tax stamps and markings heard that enactment would save about $11,680,000 a year but that the shift from prepaid collections would not be felt for a few years.

The proposals would apply to markings on cigarette packs and on beer and wine bottle caps as well as to the stamps used in retail sales. The administration failed to win elimination of the stamps last year but the legislature ended their use in motor vehicle transfers and cut redemptions from 3 to 2 per cent of face value.

The Ethiopian Church, related to the Coptic Church of Egypt, holds to the doctrine that Christ had a single nature instead of being both divine and human.

Picketing Blamed for Flunk in ROTC

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Sophomore James L. Creighton charges he was flunked in ROTC at the University of California because he picketed in protest against compulsory military classes.

Col. J. T. Maiory, chairman of the military science department, replied that Creighton, 19, was a graded "F" because he didn't measure up to the standards of the course.

The student, who was given an "A" at mid-semester, said he had appealed the flunking grade. He was among students who picketed in December demonstrations favoring a voluntary military training program. ROTC is a required course for all freshmen and sophomores at California.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Origin of Syphilis

- Hepatitis
- Vein Weakness
- Salk Vaccine

Q. Where did syphilis originate?

A. No one knows when or where germs (including the one that causes syphilis) originated. Syphilis, which is again on the rise, probably existed for eons in both Europe and the New World. For some unknown reason, a deadly form of the disease spread with frightful speed through Europe shortly after the discovery of America. The germ (spirochete) which causes syphilis was then unknown, the general belief being that the disease was divine punishment for the lax morals of the times.

Q. What is infectious hepatitis?

A. It is a virus infection of the liver. Infectious hepatitis, commonly called jaundice, can often be traced to sewage problems or contaminated water. Outbreaks of the disease often occur in areas where septic tanks overflow.

Q. What is the best treatment for varicose veins?

A. It depends. For some, surgery may be indicated. Injection treatment may be best for others. The condition of varicose veins is due to an inherited weakness of the vessels. Regardless of the method of treatment, revisits to the doctor at regular intervals are absolutely essential in minimizing further trouble.

Q. A neighbor's child who had received four polio shots contracted the disease and is paralyzed. Will you please discuss?

A. When Salk polio vaccine first became available, some health officials predicted almost complete success in stamping out the disease. Things didn't turn out quite so perfectly. In 1959 there were about 6,000 cases of paralytic polio in the U. S., 1,000 of which involved persons who had received three, four, or more shots of Salk vaccine. The exact reason for the failures is debatable.

Prescriptions called for promptly and delivered quickly.

Virginia Cobb, Mr. LaNier Wed in Kingston Church

Miss Virginia Cobb and Mr. Vinton B. LaNier, both of Kingston, exchanged marriage vows at half-past six o'clock Thursday, February 9th.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert Dulaney at the Mt. Pleasant Presbyterian Church, Kingston.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cobb, Kingston. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ferguson, the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Circleville, were the couple's only attendants.

For her wedding, the bride chose a beige wool sheath dress with brown accessories. Her corsage was of cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Ferguson was attired in a blue wool sheath with winter white accessories. She wore a red rose corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception for the immediate family and close friends was held in the home of the bride's parents.

The new Mrs. LaNier is a graduate of Kingston High School. She is employed as a bookkeeper at Flo-Lizer, Kingston. Mr. LaNier is self-employed.

Following a short wedding trip through Kentucky and West Virginia the couple will reside in the LaNier home, E. Pickaway St., Kingston.

Housewives Are Among Biggest Calorie Spenders

Housewives are among the nation's biggest spenders — of calories.

Her daily tasks can cost her 4 to 7 calories per minute.

Meanwhile her desk - job husband is spending 1.5 to 2, the steel worker 3 to 4.

All this can have great bearing on a woman's calorie savings bank, and her figure.

For calories are like money. Put too much in the bank, and the account swells. Spend more — even a little more every day — and the savings dwindle.

Just how much total energy or calories housewives spend varies far more than that of factory workers performing the same job in the factory, says Dr. Herman K. Hellerstein of Western Reserve University Medical School, Cleveland.

Much depends on the size of her house, how many children she tends or pursues, how many labor-saving appliances she enlists.

Dr. Hellerstein, an authority in measuring the energy costs of various jobs, cites these housekeeping spending figures:

Stripping and changing bed linens — 5.5 calories per minute. Simply tidying beds — about 4. Cleaning windows — 3.5 to 4. Scrubbing floors on hands and knees — 7.

Putting washing through a mangle — up to 7. Carrying out and hanging up wash — 4.5 to 5, and more if the wash is carried up steps. Washing lingerie by hand — 3. Ironing — 4.2 per minute.

Automatic machines cut the cost sharply.

Gardening — up to 5 or 6, particularly with digging and spading.

Lions Auxiliary Plans Dinner-Meet

Lions Auxiliary members and husbands will hold a covered-dish-dinner and meeting starting at 6 p. m. Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dick, 341 E. Franklin St.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

It's Your Life, Lady!

DEAR ABBY: I am a married woman who has a very dear friend. She and I always do our marketing and errands together because she has a car and I do not.

I suppose you'll think I'm terrible for complaining, but she drives like a maniac. Every time I get into her car I feel like I'm taking my life in my hands. She speeds, goes through red lights and talks so much she doesn't watch where she's going. Do I dare tell her she is a poor driver? Or should I keep quiet and try to get out of riding with her?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: I am constantly amazed at the number of people who wouldn't dream of eating in a home where the food might be poisoned, yet they'll get into an automobile with a driver who is careless, incompetent and even intoxicated. Tell your friend you refuse to drive with her unless she drives safely and obeys the laws.

DEAR ABBY: I was recently engaged and people have been congratulating me! I was very well brought up and was taught that when a woman marries, it is the husband who is congratulated. The wife is given "best wishes." What do you say to those rude and ignorant people who say "congratulations" to a bride as though she had finally captured a rhinoceros?

ANNOUNCED

DEAR ANNOUNCED: Say "Thank you." Anything else would reveal that you weren't as "well brought up" as you think.

DEAR ABBY: My ex-husband has been writing to me constantly, telling me what a fool he was to give me up. He wants me to break up my home and come back to him.

U.S. Ahead in Knowledge; Russia More Spectacular

EDITOR'S NOTE — The conquest of space is an adventure for all mankind, but the space age was born in the shadow of the military, and it still is sharply affected by the great cold war rivalry. In this second of three articles, American and Soviet achievements are compared.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — In 40 months, 45 satellites have soared up successfully from the United States and Soviet Russia. The Soviets put up 11, this country 34.

The Soviet Union leads in spectacular, impressive firsts and in weights. In quick succession this month, she put up a record-breaking seven-ton Sputnik, then capped this with a huge satellite which went into orbit, and then launched from space a 1,400-pound probe aimed at perhaps hitting or going into orbit around Venus.

The reach toward Venus opened a new, fourth phase of Soviet space age efforts. Until now, the Soviet Union has been bunched her shots in triple plays, each concerned with a different aspect or region of space.

Her first three Sputniks orbited the earth.

Then in 1959, she reached for the moon, hitting it, photographing its back side, and sending one probe past the moon to become the first little man-made planet of the sun. The United States later sent two probes into orbit around the sun, one of them radioing back space findings over a record distance of 22½ million miles.

Abruptly, the Soviets dropped the moon, and last year sent three spacehips, weighing up to five tons, orbiting near the earth.

In a brilliant feat, the Soviets brought back part of their second spaceship containing two dogs. The time seemed near to launch a man, but in December the capsule of the third ship failed to obey command signals and burned up. Two dogs, other animals, insect and plant life all perished.

It was a rare if not the first official Soviet admission of any mishap in her space shoots.

Last weekend, the Soviets opened the interplanetary phase, with the new feat of launching a Venus probe from space itself. She had remained curiously silent about the seven-ton Sputnik, but then one Soviet space official said it had been intended mainly to learn whether such a heavy satellite could be put and kept into a precise orbit.

The Sputnik launching the Venus messenger might have been another seven-ton affair.

The Soviets have behaved like eager explorers pioneering into an unknown continent—not waiting to settle and cultivate one region before roaring out to make first contact with another.

Her fifth venture could be man into space.

Some Western experts believe the Soviets embarked in 1956 or earlier on a plan to send man into space. This would be at least two years ahead of the start of the U.S. program.

Sputnik II, carrying the dog Laika in November 1957, is taken as one sign of such intent.

rockets, but using ingenious miniaturized equipment, the American program has been more diversified, and more broadly based.

The United States clearly leads, most experts say, in gleaming new scientific knowledge from and about space, and in cultivating space for valuable practical applications.

Tiros satellites photographing clouds and measuring earth temperatures took the first step toward keen weather eyes in space. Samos II, just put up by the Air Force, is using cameras which could serve as military scouts.

Echo, the shiny balloon, and Courier satellites are preparing the way for a space network to relay civilian telephone calls, TV and radio programs, and military commands.

Transit satellites augur artificial stars supplying exquisitely accurate navigational fixes for ships and planes.

But even greater benefits could come from basic knowledge being learned about earth, air, space and sun.

U.S. satellites discovered the Van Allen radiation belts.

U.S. satellites have explored more vigorously and keenly the earth's magnetic and gravitational fields, the great pulses of atomic particles hurled at the earth by gigantic explosions on the sun, the ionosphere, upper atmosphere, the pressure exerted by sunlight, the shape of the earth.

From such studies of the sun's effects on earth could come better understandings of what makes our weather, and perhaps one day to control it.

Knowledge is coming like fruit falling from a tree, says Dr. Robert Jastrow, chief of the theoretical division of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The Soviets have published far fewer reports on their findings, he adds. Since their moon shots, they appear to have lost momentum in studying aspects of space near earth.

He feels the Soviets have attracted fewer scientists with original and imaginative ideas to their space program—perhaps because such scientists are more desperately needed in other fields.

First in developing great booster rockets, the Soviet Union can loft up far heavier payloads, and can equip satellites with excellent guidance controls.

But mammoth boosters are being developed here, too. And the U.S. space program calls for a variety of exciting feats in this year and decade.

Next: space plans ahead.

Don Cupid Is Busy On Valentine's Day

CLEVELAND (AP) — Business was booming Tuesday in at least one Cleveland office — the marriage license office at the Cuyahoga County Courthouse. Three clerks at the bureau said it had been a long time since they had seen so many customers. There were 25 new applications and 40 licenses issued — "and that's a lot," said the tired clerks after the busy St. Valentine's Day rush was over.

Steel Union Loses 12,000 Dues-Payers

CLEVELAND (AP)—More than 12,000 dues-paying members of District 28 of the United Steelworkers, which covers the Cleveland and Lorain areas, have been lost in a little more than one year.

Paul E. Schremp, district director, said Monday that the drop started shortly after the end of the 116-day steel strike in 1959. At that time there were 35,000 dues-paying members. Now there are only 23,000.

Schremp said he could not say how many of the 23,000 are working full time, "but they are paying dues."

"Some of them might be on a full week, others on four days or a few days a week," he said. "Others might be working one week on and one week off."

He said some might be paying dues because they also are receiving unemployment benefits if they are on the week-on and week-off basis. "We do know that 12,000 are not paying dues into our union."

The district includes employees of the U.S. Steel Corp., American Steel & Wire Co.; Republic Steel Corp.; Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.; American Steel & Wire Co.; Republic Steel Corp.; Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., all in Cleveland; and U.S. Steel Corp. workers at the National Tube Co. in Lorain.

Brink's Robbery Defendant Dies In Prison Hospital

WALPOLE, Mass. (AP)—Death has claimed one of the eight men sentenced to life imprisonment for the nation's biggest cash robbery — the $1,219,000 looting of Brink's Armored Money Transfer Service in Boston 11 years ago.

Henry Baker, 54, died Monday night in the Norfolk Prison Colony Hospital of bronchial pneumonia. He was taken there Sunday after he was stricken at the state prison.

A band of armed men in Halloween masks swept into Brink's Boston office the night of Jan. 17, 1950, quickly harvested the treasure and vanished for 6½ years.

Then, with statutes of limitation running out, the FBI broke the case. That agency said there were 11 participants, but only eight were brought to trial. Two others had died. The 11th, Joseph "Specs" O'Keefe, became the prosecution's chief witness.

Only a pittance of the loot ever has been recovered.

SAC Command Post Is Now Airborne

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—The Strategic Air Command announced today it now has an airborne command post in the air at all times.

SAC started using the "flying headquarters" on a trial basis last July, Gen. Thomas S. Power, SAC commander, said today.

The airborne command posts are intended to take over should the underground control center or its alternates be knocked out. SAC recently announced that part of its B52 bomber force also will be airborne at all times.

Indignation...

The jobless benefits bill, which probably will come to a floor vote in the house next week, would:

Require that workers have at least 30 weeks of employment in the previous year to be eligible for an extra 13 weeks of benefits, an increase from 20 weeks of required employment to qualify for the regular 26 weeks of benefits.

Limit benefit payments to one-half a worker's earnings during his base year.

Prohibit payments to a worker during the weeks he draws vacation pay.

Require six weeks of work on a new job by an employee who voluntarily quits a previous job before he can qualify for benefits after being laid off from his second job. Under present law, he needs only one week on the new job.

As soon as the Republican leadership gets the bill through the House, the Senate will consider it while keeping an eye on Washington. Congress is expected to act on a federal extension of benefits while the Senate is deliberating. The Senate is expected quickly to gear the proposed new Ohio law to the federal law and attach an emergency clause in the process.

The battle over the budget bill got rougher. DiSalle asserted in a prepared statement:

"It is now clear that the Republican leadership has decided not to consider or even to examine Ohio's public programs in terms of their adequacy."

He was talking about the insistence of the GOP leadership that the administration submit suggestions by which the DiSalle budget—calling for spending of about $75 million above anticipated tax revenue in the next two years—could be brought into balance.

Retorted Speaker Cloud: "An examination of Ohio's public programs in terms of their adequacy is exactly what we Republicans will be undertaking in about three months of hearings. It will be an exhaustive study. Just because we introduced the governor's appropriations bill — after balancing amendments — does not mean we agree with all his spending proposals. Undoubtedly there will be changes."

The amendments, submitted to the House Finance Committee upon request by Finance Director James H. Maloon, struck out the governor's requests for about $40 million more for education and another $25 million for welfare, mental health and corrections.

While the battles ground on, the House and Senate passed two bills each and received 19 new proposals.

One House bill sent to the Senate would require reports to sheriff or police departments of wounds inflicted by firearms or other deadly weapons. Sponsors explained that no report would be required by a housewife who cuts herself with a butcher knife accidentally but that such a wound inflicted by an intruder must be reported.

The other House bill provides for the recording of land contracts, used for installment purchase of real estate, in the same manner as deeds and similar instruments.

Measures passed by the Senate and sent to the House provide a uniform method for county auditors to remove wills from safety deposit boxes for delivery to probate boxes for delivery to probate.

of legal papers on out-of-state pilots whose planes damage property in Ohio.

The Senate refused to concur in a House resolution to print the legislative bulletin every two weeks instead of weekly. Lack of action further delayed the report, printed regularly in the past, on the progress of proposals through the legislature, although sessions now are in their seventh week.

Rep. Myrl H. Shoemaker, D-Ross, introduced a measure to require the calling of a special election within 10 days of a vacancy in Ohio's delegation to the U.S. House of Representatives.

Such an election would have to be held within 60 days after a vacancy caused by death, resignation or other reasons unless regular or primary elections fell within that period. Special elections would coincide with regular elections for economy reasons in such cases.

Shoemaker recalled that the seat of Democratic congressman James Polk in the 6th District of Southern Ohio remained vacant for about 19 months after his death in April 1959, because Gov. Michael V. DiSalle failed to call a special election earlier. Last November William Harsha Jr., Portsmouth Republican, was elected to the regular two-year term.

Other new proposals would:

Cancel state hospital patient care charges delinquent more than 21 days.

Appropriate $16 million for a hospital in Cuyahoga County to care for mentally retarded children.

Permit operation of a county home as a county hospital upon approval of county commissioners.

Make Great Lakes seamen eligible for unemployment compensation in off-seasons.

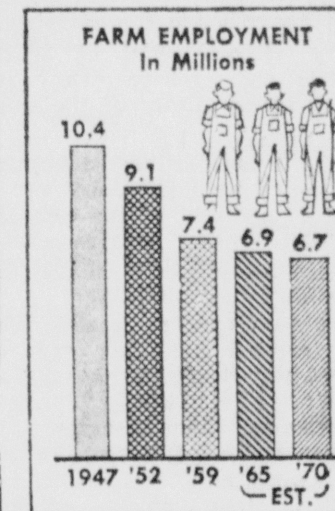

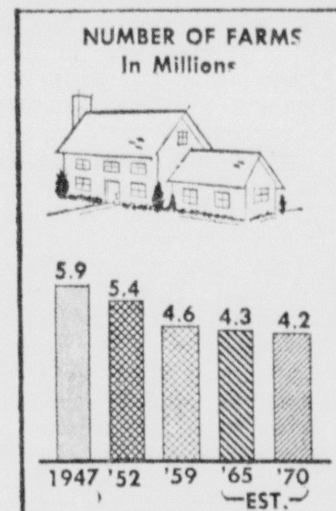

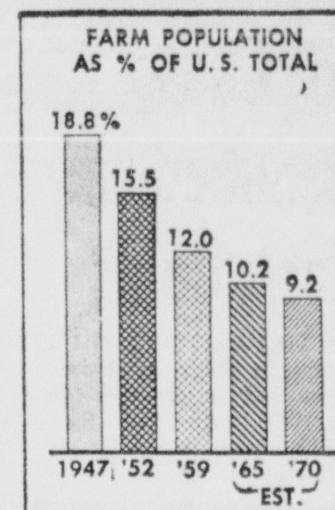

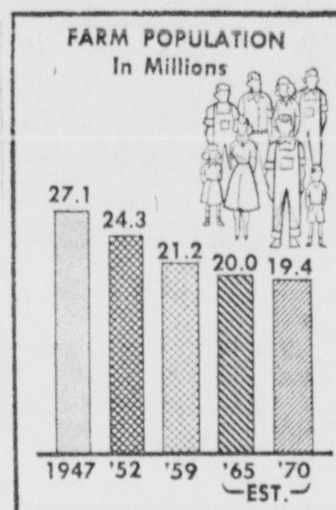

Create a permanent seven-member commission in the Welfare Department to deal with problems of the aging.

Permit boards of education to spend up to $1,000 to inform voters on bond issues or tax levies up for decision at the polls.

The House Taxation Committee at its initial hearing on three bills to end use of sales tax stamps and markings heard that enactment would save about $11,680,000 a year but that the shift from prepaid collections would not be felt for a few years.

The proposals would apply to markings on cigarette packs and on beer and wine bottle caps as well as to the stamps used in retail sales. The administration failed to win elimination of the stamps last year but the legislature ended their use in motor vehicle transfers and cut redemptions from 3 to 2 per cent of face value.

The Ethiopian Church, related to the Coptic Church of Egypt, holds to the doctrine that Christ had a single nature instead of being both divine and human.

Picketing Blamed for Flunk in ROTC

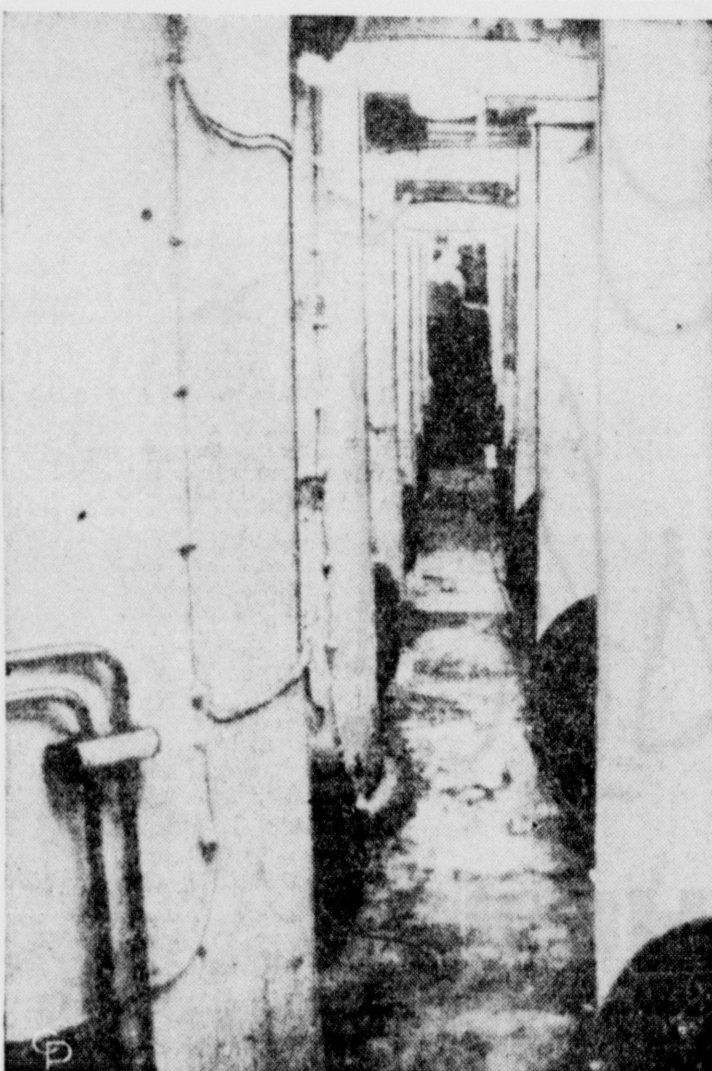

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Sophomore James L. Creighton charges he was flunked in ROTC at the University of California because he picketed in protest against compulsory military classes.

Col. J. T. Malloy, chairman of the military science department, replied that Creighton, 19, was graded "F" because he didn't measure up to the standards of the course.

The student, who was given an "A" at mid-semester, said he had appealed the flunking grade. He was among students who picketed in December demonstrations favoring a voluntary military training program. ROTC is a required course for all freshmen and sophomores at California.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Origin of Syphilis

- Hepatitis
- Vein Weakness
- Salk Vaccine

Q. Where did syphilis originate?

A. No one knows when or where germs (including the one that causes syphilis) originated. Syphilis, which is again on the rise, probably existed for eons in both Europe and the New World. For some unknown reason, a deadly form of the disease spread with frightful speed through Europe shortly after the discovery of America. The germ (spirochete) which causes syphilis was then unknown, the general belief being that the disease was divine punishment for the lax morals of the times.

Q. What is infectious hepatitis?

A. It is a virus infection of the liver. Infectious hepatitis, commonly called jaundice, can often be traced to sewage problems or contaminated water. Outbreaks of the disease often occur in areas where septic tanks overflow.

Q. What is the best treatment for varicose veins?

A. It depends. For some, surgery may be indicated. Injection treatment may be best for others. The condition of varicose veins is due to an inherited weakness of the vessels. Regardless of the method of treatment, visits to the doctor at regular intervals are absolutely essential in minimizing further trouble.

Q. A neighbor's child who had received four polio shots contracted the disease and is paralyzed. Will you please discuss?

A. When Salk polio vaccine first became available, some health officials predicted almost complete success in stamping out the disease. Things didn't turn out quite so perfectly. In 1959 there were about 6,000 cases of paralytic polio in the U. S., 1,000 of which involved persons who had received three, four, or more shots of Salk vaccine. The exact reason for the failures is debatable.

Prescriptions called for promptly and delivered quickly.

No Cause Identified in Most Colds

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Common colds, uncommon climates and a strange fever in Singapore turn the focus on health.

What's in a Cold
The trouble with the common cold is that the only things common about it are the symptoms. Any of a handful of known viruses and bacteria can cause the common misery of the common cold.

But no cause—either bacteria or virus—has been identified for at least 80 per cent of the common sporadic diseases seen in adults, says Dr. Alfred S. Evans of the University of Wisconsin.

Bacteria are responsible for only some 5 to 7 per cent of respiratory diseases, he says in an article entitled, "Sneezes, Wheezes and Other Diseases." Flu viruses and adenoviruses, prevalent among military recruits, account for less than 13 per cent of such illness in adults.

Weather to Live
Your health, good or bad, may be made by the weather—in spite of coats, radiators, air-conditioning, medicine and all.

Researchers find strange correlations between climate and disease.

Colds reach a peak in winter, and in stormy climates with changing temperatures and pressures.

Digestive disorders are most frequent in hot climates and in hot summer months.

More diabetes is found in winter—and in winter insulin requirements increase.

Skin infections increase in summer, and in high temperature and humidity. Skin cancer is most prevalent in the sunny south.

Multiple sclerosis occurs most often in cool climates and in spring and fall weather changes.

Fever in Singapore
An epidemic of fever broke out in Singapore last summer, striking all races and ages.

Fever ran as high as 104 degrees. Immediate symptoms were headache, severe body aches and vomiting. Patients usually recovered in a week.

But the disease had another strange effect: Patients broke out in patches of bleeding rash. Small blood vessels became more fragile, and there was a decrease in the blood's ability to clot.

Japanese Cowboy Film Star Riding Hard in Rice Paddies

TOKYO (AP) — Hi-yo, Yama-mato.

The latest sensation in the Japanese film world is the Western—a real, live horse opera with shoot-outs and chases. Only the cowpokes are Japanese.

Home of the new wave of Westerns is Nikkatsu Studio, a bustling lot amid rice paddies. It is to the Japanese film industry what Republic was in the Autry-Rogers era. Specializing in action movies, Nikkatsu released 25 Westerns last year.

Riding tall (5 feet 9) in the saddle during the Western craze is Akira Kobayashi. A trim, good-looking 24-year-old, he is billed as mito guy, or dynamite guy. He started in films five years ago, became a star in 1958 with "Forget Girls."

The star lives in a modest home in Tokyo's Tagamura district with his parents, sister, brother, white Thunderbird and Doberman Pinscher. He talked about his career over tea in his den, decorated with his awards and trophies and dolls from fans.

How did he get started with Westerns?

"When I went to the country areas," said the Tokyo-born actor, "I found the people didn't understand the imported Westerns. I thought I would give them a Japanese version."

Last year Akira made 10 Westerns, along with five others. He has little time for anything else, grinding out a film every 25 days. He is well paid, even by Hollywood standards. His estimated annual earnings: $100,000, a quarter of that from records.

Akira makes a series as an itinerant adventurer called the Migrating Bird. This bird, like the cowboys in the American Westerns of yore, is never permitted to kiss the girl.

"I am supposed to play a lonely man with no sweethearts," he said in translated English. "Often I rescue the beautiful girl and she has affection for me, but I must shun her."

Akira has studied the American stars for their walks, draws, etc. His own draw is lightning-fast. He prizes his gun collection—tools, since Japanese law forbids the real kind.

He makes his films partly at the studio, partly on location in northern Japan, where the desolate areas resemble the American West. Would he like to try Hollywood?

"There is no demand for me there," he said realistically. "Even if there were, I would have no desire to go there permanently." In view of his salary on the Nippon range, why should he?

Dillon Pleads For OK of Economic Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said today U.S. rejection of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development would be "a lethal blow" to economic cooperation between the United States and Western Europe.

He and George Ball, undersecretary of state for economic affairs, assured the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that the organization would in no way infringe on domestic law or congressional tariff-making powers.

Under questioning by Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., Ball said that if the Senate failed to ratify the OECD convention, "it would be a lethal blow to OECD."

Dillon, who helped negotiate the 20-nation agreement signed at Paris Dec. 14, went further, saying "it would be a lethal blow to economic cooperation" in the Atlantic community.

Both said there would be no chance for the OECD to come into operation unless the United States ratifies it.

Aiken said he was trying to get the answers for those who have been sending letters and telegrams opposing the OECD.

Dillon said the opposition was based on mistaken fears that the projected international organization could make binding decisions.

"No decision would be binding on any member until that country transfer one single thing from Congress to the executive," he said.

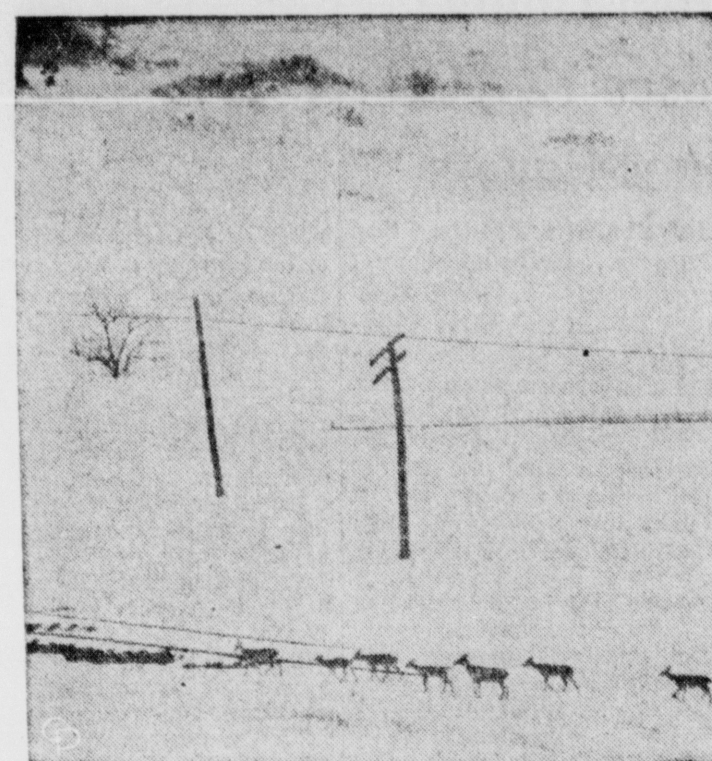

"Decisions could only be carried out through the constitutional processes of the United States."

Commerce Chief Mum on GE Adviser

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges said today he will let his Business Advisory Council decide whether Ralph J. Cordiner, president of General Electric, should continue as chairman of the group.

GE was one of 29 corporations fined nearly $2 million last week for price fixing in the electrical equipment field. Three GE officials were among seven given 30-day jail sentences in the antitrust case.

"I do not like anything of the character I saw in the newspapers," Hodges told a news conference. "It's some form of cartelization. We don't in America like that sort of thing at all."

TRACKDOWN—You might suppose this is a scene from the Northwest, but it's right on Long Island. The seven deer are following the Long Island Railroad, hunting food.

Hoffa Wins Round in Federal Court

DETROIT (AP)—U.S. District Judge Fred W. Kaess ruled today that Teamster Union President James R. Hoffa's Local 299 in Detroit and also Local 614 in Pontiac, Mich., do not have to comply with government subpoenas requiring the locals to produce books and records for 1959.

The ruling was believed to be the first of its kind restricting the subpoena power of the U.S. secretary of labor under the Landrum-Griffin labor law enacted by Congress in 1959.

The law requires unions to submit periodic reports to the federal government on their finances and organizing activities.

Local 299, which is headed by Hoffa, and Local 614, contended they submitted such reports in March 1960, for 1959 but that they were subpoenaed in September and ordered to submit all books and records since Jan. 1, 1959, so that the government could determine if the reports filed by the local in March were accurate.

"In this case," Judge Kaess said in his ruling, "the Department of Labor has refused to show or has been unable to show any basis for this investigation. . . . The subpoenas by themselves are so broad that they constitute a complete seizure unrelated to any recorded, purposeful investigation. . . ."

Music Success Found in Jungle

Bird Calls Aid Pianist In Hitting Big Time

HONOLULU AP)—Nicest success story in the islands is Martin Denny, the musical wizard who found success in the jungle.

For 25 years, Denny fingered pianos from here to Buenos Aires with only token success. A New Yorker reared in Los Angeles, he started playing in bands while in school. Jobs were scarce in depression times, so he and some friends signed on as a cruise band and knocked around South America for five years.

War service followed, and he used the GI bill to study music in Hollywood. He again worked the music mills, from small combos to accompanying Betty Hutton. He couldn't find himself, and a broken marriage added to his unhappiness.

"I decided to come to Hawaii," he says.

He found himself, creating a new kind of music that combines jungle sounds with haunting melody. A hit here, he went back to the mainland with high hopes. He got a few dates and then, nothing.

"For eight weeks I couldn't get a booking," he said, "but then some disc jockey started playing a record I had made, 'Quiet Village.'"

Wham! The disc went a million copies, and he sold a half-million of his "Exotica" album. More albums have hit, and he now spends half his time playing here, half in the other states.

Happily married, he averages $150,000 a year.

What makes his music different? He gets an amazing number of sounds from only five players, primitive but harmonic sounds with an occasional bird call thrown in. It's new and it sells. Martin Denny will never have to go back to playing on the boat to Rio.

The rank of Page was conferred on Glen Justice and Russell Adams Monday night by Philos Lodge No. 64, Knights of Pythias.

Lunch was served following the ceremony under direction of Ernest Young, Raymond Reichelderfer and Lloyd Fisher. The same committee will be in charge next week.

The Business World

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's no wonder President Kennedy is giving so much time and thought to dealing with Premier Khrushchev. The chubby Russian may be the last train home.

There will be nothing to look forward to except intensified and more dangerous cold war if this country and Russia don't find some common and amicable ground upon which to do business.

Khrushchev won't be around indefinitely. Unless in his lifetime some peaceful settlements are reached, the Communist world, particularly the Red Chinese, can consider his peaceful coexistence policy repudiated.

The logical alternative to that is a return to the aggressions of Stalin.

Khrushchev may be repudiated by his own followers even in his own lifetime unless his pursuit of peaceful coexistence can be realized in some demonstrable way.

Dayton Food Chain, Unions Reach Accord

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A five-Liberal Markets, a locally owned week-old strike has ended at the Liberal Markets, a locally owned chain of 18 supermarkets in the Dayton area.

The striking Retail Clerks Association Local 1552 ratified a new contract Monday night, according to William E. Harvey of Columbus, president of Retail Clerks District 8.

At the same time, the company announced that striking Teamsters Union Local 957 had signed a new agreement.

The strike started Jan. 6. Involved were 600 clerks and 70 warehouse men and drivers in the Teamsters Union. Also affected were about 120 members of Meatcutters Local 430 who refused to cross picket lines set up by the other two unions.

Harvey declined to release any details of the Retail Clerks' contract until it is signed. Details of the Teamster contract also were not disclosed.

Principal issues of the strike were union demands that senior employees have the right to work additional hours, up to 40 a week, since many regular employees do not work a 40-hour week; that senior employees get preference for Sunday work, when double time is paid; and that Liberal assign a dairy manager to each store.

Latin America is the leading exporter of agricultural products to the United States.

His Chinese allies think he is wrong and have said so.

In a way Khrushchev has been a political freak. The only kind of communism the world knew until Stalin died in 1953 was Stalin's kind—cold, more or less inarticulate, and unimaginative.

It was unimaginative in a very real sense. Stalin relied on the primitive use of force. He ignored the more modern weapons of propaganda, visits abroad, and foreign aid to influence other peoples.

Khrushchev not only denounced Stalin but made the complete switch by drawing a peaceful picture of Russia while using all the modern public relations methods available, the ones Stalin didn't try.

What Stalin and Khrushchev retained in common, as Kennedy pointed out in his State of the Union message, was a determination to make communism prevail.

One basic difference remained. It was impossible to reach peaceful solutions with Stalin; it might be possible with Khrushchev. Kennedy has made it clear he will ignore no effort toward doing so.

'Sweetie Pies' Never Show Anger

CLEVELAND (AP) — "Neither Aloysius nor Albert has ever opened his mouth to me in anger," said Rick Segedi, in referring to the Cleveland Aquarium's "sweetie pies."

Aloysius is a 300-pounder, who is 8 1/2-feet long. The other, an oddly-tagged female named Albert, is a mere 120 pounds and only 7 feet long.

Segedi is an aquarist. He likes to tickle his friends under their chins as they hiss an unheeded warning. He feeds them and cleans their scenic rock-ledge case. They like him.

They're alligators.

Just drive up to our teller window! A great time saver!

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Khrushchev sits and waits until Kennedy makes up his mind on what he'll do and how.

But just because Khrushchev may be the last chance in a generation for some peaceful solutions, Kennedy almost certainly will be glad to talk with him if the Russian comes to this country in April for a United Nations meeting.

Kennedy hasn't even indicated yet that he will. At the moment his policy is to say practically nothing about Khrushchev or Russia. But he has said "each day the crises multiply."

Since he spoke they've become worse. For example, the killing of Patrice Lumumba in the Congo. One of Kennedy's most critical problems is one which may lie beyond his control. While he ponders the course to take in seeking settlements with Khrushchev, the possibility of settlements may be made even more remote by explosions, like the Congo, in areas far distant from both Russia and the United States.

Drought, Not Flood, Is Danger in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio is more in danger of drought than flood at the moment, experts of the Division of Water said today.

But that does not mean a flood is out of the question in the next month or so, they added.

Hydrologist Paul Kaser said precipitation—rain, snow, sleet, hail or mist—between Sept. 1 and the end of January was 52 per cent of normal.

On the other hand, consultant Miles M. Dawson reported that "while it is true that the stage is not set for a flood now as it was in 1959 when streams were full and the ground frozen deeply, this condition could exist within the next several weeks."

Kennedy Plaudits Are Sent to Khrush

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today congratulated Soviet Premier Khrushchev on the Russians' "impressive scientific achievement" in launching a space vehicle bound for Venus.

The White House said the President's message was sent to Khrushchev Monday night through the State Department.

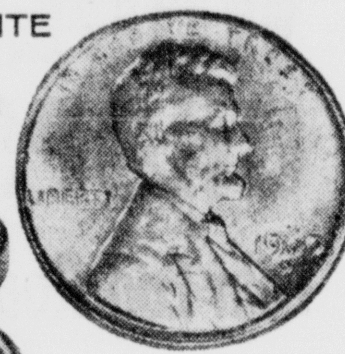

It said: "I wish to extend my congratulations and those of the American people for the impressive scientific achievement represented by the launching of your space vehicle to Venus."

"We shall watch its progress with interest and we wish you success in another chapter in man's exploration of the universe."

Old Archie Involved in New Hassle

NEW YORK (AP) — Archie Moore, a handy guy with fists and words, usually can talk his way out of any predicament.

So when he was faced with a real tough one—an order from the New York State Athletic Commission to sign "forthwith" for a light heavyweight title defense, his answer was: "Okay, I'm going down right now to sign."

But making a fight for Moore's New York - Massachusetts-Europe version of the championship isn't as simple as Archie made it sound Tuesday night.

Moore said the contract was offered by Madison Square Garden for a June 10 title bout with Giulio Rinaldi, the Italian who beat him in a non-title bout last Oct. 30 in Rome.

The New York Commission's order mentioned unbeaten Doug Jones—the only fighter who has filed an official challenge and posted the $2,500 forfeit—or "any other suitable opponent."

Harry Markson, Garden boxing director, and Bill Yale, Moore's lawyer in San Diego, confirmed negotiations were under way. They'll talk some more today, anticipating the possibility the commission might act to strip Moore of title recognition at its Friday meeting.

Markson said he hadn't tried to contact Rinaldi yet. Getting the champ's signature is the first step, the opponent comes later.

Then there's the question of whether Moore has been released from his agreement to meet Germany's Eric Schoepner under the promotion of Feature Sports Incorporated. Last week Jack Pugaz, FSI executive director, declared the fight was off because of the German's "unreasonable demands" for money.

Fowler Total High For Early Monday

High series score in Early Monday Nite bowling here was counted by Junior Fowler on a 213-190-193-596. Bill Dietrich rang a 564, Gene Muering 548 and Hank Miga 530.

Dietrich's 219 was high single score, followed by Fowler's 213, Tom Alkire's 204 and Roger Graham and Muering with a 202 each.

Circle D continues to lead the league by seven games over runner-up Moore's Store and GE. High averages for the league are Bob Moon 182, Bob Callihan 177, Junior Fowler 176, Jack Leasure 175 and Dallas Elliott and Pete Noble 172.

Gary Player Tops Pro Earnings List

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Gary Player today remained as professional golf's top money winner, but his position proved to be rapidly eroding under Arnold Palmer's steady game.

Player, a young pro from Johannesburg, South Africa, moved his total earnings up to $14,200 this week, winning $800 in the Phoenix Open.

Palmer, of Ligonier, Pa., picked up $4,300 first money for the Open to move from fourth to second spot in the rankings with $12,800.

The No. 3 man on the list released by the Professional Golfers Association headquarters at Dunedin, was Ken Venturi of Palo Alto, Calif., with $9,400. He was tied with Bob Rosburg of Overland Park, Kan.

Bob Goalby of Crystal River, Fla., held down sixth spot with $9,200.

Cap-Bishop Showdown Near

Ohio Conference Tilt To Tell Second Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Capital University has set the stage for a showdown for second place in the Ohio Conference. An 82-65 triumph over Denison Tuesday night moved the Lutherans into a tie (11-3) with Ohio Wesleyan. Cap and the Bishops collide Thursday at Delaware.

Wittenberg already has clinched its third straight O.C. title.

In another Ohio Conference battle Otterbein reached the .500 mark (7-7) in the league with a 79-53 win over Muskingum (1-11).

In the Mid-American Conference, Kent State, which had won only one of seven loop games, rose up to defeat Bowling Green 73-66. After a seesaw first half Bowling Green (4-5) in MAC pulled ahead but Kent caught up and took the lead for good with six minutes remaining.

Arrington Archie led the night's individual scorers with 27 points but that wasn't enough to keep his Wilmington Quaker teammates from dropping an 83-82 thriller at Cedarville. Dave Jeremiah dropped in two free throws with six seconds remaining to give the Yellow Jackets their fifth win in 11 Mid-Ohio League games. Wilmington is 5-5 in the league.

At Greenville, Pa., John Carroll won its fifth of eight Presidents' Conference games, 80-64 over winless Thiel.

In nonconference action Wittenberg's defensive-minded Tigers ran up their highest score of the season, crushing Lake Forest (Ill.) 91-33 Oberlin, after being held in tow in the early minutes, ran away from Western Reserve, 102-57 Washington C. H. Jefferson stopped Hiram 77-51, and Oakland City (Ind.) won its seventh straight by pasting Wilberforce 96-56.

Louise Suggs Ties 5 Men in Tourney

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Thirty-six holes of golf today was expected to split up a six-way tie for the lead in the $10,000 Royal Poinciana Invitational Tournament.

Louise Suggs and five male pros all registered 1-under-par 53s in the first round Tuesday. The Sea Island, Ga., girl's coteaders were Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Chick Harbert of Port St. Lucie, Lew Worsham of Fort Lauderdale and W. A. Pagan and Clyde Usina, both of West Palm Beach.

Sam Sneed of Boca Raton and Bobby Cruickshank of nearby Gulfstream shot 54s.

The men are competing for $6,000 and the women for $4,000.

CHS Cagers Eye 2nd Straight Friday against Miami Trace

A second straight win will be the objective of the Circleville basketball force when the Panthers of Miami Trace invade the local Tigers' den Friday night.

Fresh from a 32-50 victory at Pleasant View last week, the Tigers go for another one against the new Fayette County consolidated school district.

Remembering a 56-49 loss earlier in the season to the Panthers, the Tigers are aware their task will not be an easy one. The MT outfit has good speed and some respected shooting ability.

The Panthers get a lot of service from Richard Ayres, one of the leading scorers in the SCO. Weaver is another dependable performer.

MIAMI TRACE also will be in a victory mood, especially after rocking Washington C. H. last week, 65-57.

Circleville's win over Pleasant View, second for the Tigers in SCO competition, was sparked by Juniors Sam Weller and Dick Kline. Weller, a top league scorer, hit for 24 and Kline had 11.

Cleveland Idle Claims Show New Increase

CLEVELAND (AP) — New claims for unemployment compensation in the Cleveland area climbed to 5,300 last week, up 500 from the preceding week. Continuing claims rose 82 to 45,828. However, E. C. Schulze, acting area director of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, saw one good sign, noting that "February's unemployment claims are coming in at a slower pace than in December or early January."

Wake Forest May Be Team To Beat on Atlantic Coast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Wake Forest Deacons, unaccountably unpredictable outside the league, are kicking up such a fuss in Atlantic Coast Conference competition that they may wind up the team to beat when the ACC gets down to selecting its representative for the NCAA basketball championships.

The Deacons, with their big-little pair of Len Chappell and Billy Packer in fine fettle, pushed their ACC regular season record to a handsome 10-3 Tuesday night with a 103-89 whipping of third-ranked Duke. A 61.1 shooting percentage, 38 points by the 6-8, 240-pound Chappell, and 25 by the 5-11, 170-pound Packer did the job against the Blue Devils (17-3), who got a jolt earlier in the day when high-scoring soph Art Heyman was suspended by conference commissioner Jim Weaver for his part in a fight in a North Carolina game Feb. 4.

The suspension itself was temporarily suspended by the executive committee, freeing Heyman to play—and score 31 points. But Duke, now 9-2 in the ACC race, couldn't manage a reprieve once the Deacons took the lead midway in the first half.

Fifth-ranked Bradley (17-4) went into overtime to edge Notre Dame 84-81 at Chicago Stadium, tenth-ranked West Virginia (19-3) used its zone press effectively again for its ninth straight victory, 80-78 over Penn State; St. Joseph's (Pa.) (17-4) made it eight straight, 88-73 over Penn.

Bradley, down 64-59 with three minutes left, fought Notre Dame (10-12) into overtime at 68-all then handed the Irish their fourth straight loss with Tim Robinson scoring five points, Chet Walker and Mack Herndon four each and Mickey Tiemann three in the extra session. Robinson wound up with 28 points, Herndon 21 and Walker 15.

Chicago Loyola (12-5) enhanced its tournament chances in the opener of the doubleheader, nipping Marquette 81-78 on a last-minute field goal and free throw by Mike Gavin, who scored 28 points.

Sub Kenny Ward, filling in for ailing Rod Thorn, hit a jump shot with 5 seconds left for West Virginia's victory—earning a Mountain drive from five points behind with four minutes remaining. Paul Miller scored 22 points and Jim McCormick 18 while West Virginia ace Thorn took the night off to nurse a virus.

Leading Lutheran Cleric Dies at 86

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Funeral services will be held here Thursday for Dr. Emmanuel Poppen, 86, who died Monday in St. Anthony Hospital, Dr. Poppen, a native of Dundee, Ont., Canada, was president of the American Lutheran Church from 1937 to 1950. He held other important positions in the church after graduating from Capital University here in 1893 and serving pastorates in Ohio.

Views on Television - Radio

By BERNARD GAVZER

NEW YORK (AP)—Millions have seen his work and critics have, but actor Rod Colbin finds that being an expert with swords isn't all it's cut out to be.

Colbin has staged swordplay on Broadway and in television. The most demanding recent assignment was 23 separate duels in the two-part CBS presentation of "The Three Musketeers."

Critics wrote the show off as a disappointment, but they went for the duels with great gusto, commenting generally that the fencing had grace, daring, movement and surprises.

This suits Colbin fine—but he has some reservations. "I want to use my capabilities as an actor and as a fencing master," he says, "but when I appear before a producer for a reading, I can see that in the back of his mind he is saying to himself, 'Colbin? He's a fencer. Why should he want to read?'" As an actor, Colbin's experience ranges from the crazy servant in "The Taming of the Shrew," to Hubert, the death-dealing henchman of King John, to Carl Whipple, the young retired grain merchant in the CBS soap opera, "As the World Turns."

He credits his career as an actor with an important part in the success of his dueling scenes.

"This is because I approach the duel scene—the choreography of the duel—in the same way as I would approach the scene as an actor. Each duel has a beginning, a middle and end. I try to heighten movements and also keep them from swinging all the time. The absence of blade clashes can be quite effective. The same is true in speech. It would be boring to have an actor talking all the time."

NEIGHBORHOOD MAY GET AN ODOR PROBLEM—When its brakes failed, a truck carrying 4,300 gallons of molasses plunged into Belle Isle Lake in Oklahoma City. The driver, Jim Williams of El Reno, Okla., escaped by leaping. Game warden says the molasses will cause the lake to ferment, killing fish and possibly causing an odor problem.

Cincy Druggist Breaks Up Robbery Try

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Cincinnati druggist with a hair-trigger temper broke up a holdup attempt Tuesday night with five wild shots from a .25 caliber pistol.

Police quickly arrested Jesse D. Thornton, 54, of Cincinnati. They said James Hoop and his wife, Mamie, who operate the drugstore, identified Thornton as the holdup man.

Mrs. Hoop said she had just emptied the cash register of about $40 for the robber when her husband charged out of a back room with a gun, shouting "You're not going to get away with that."

Hoop fired once and the suspect scrambled out, dropping the money as he went. Hoop fired four more times as the man drove away.

No charge was filed immediately.

Mrs. Hoop said the man had handed her a card which said, "If you want to live put the money in the paper bag. You have just 10 seconds. Then get down on the floor for three minutes. We have you covered. Do you want to live?"

MOON SURFACE?—No, just Lake Michigan ice forming "lily pads" near the Chicago shore. Beyond, ice-coated pilings give the scene a strange "other world" atmosphere.

2 Men Held For Plotting Bank Holdup

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Two Akron men arrested by FBI agents and Akron police Tuesday outside the Ellet Eastgate office of the Evans Savings Association will be charged in federal court with conspiracy to rob a bank, Detective Capt. Carroll Cutright reported.

Police had received a tip the bank was going to be held up. Nearly a dozen officers were waiting at the bank when the two were picked up.

Asst. County Prosecutor George Pappas identified the pair as Joseph Ferguson, 24, and John Goff, 20. Ferguson, an ex-convict, was indicted last Thursday for auto theft and released on bail, Pappas said.

Police said Ferguson told them he had gone to the shopping center to get a soft drink, but when two .45 caliber pistols were found in their car, he admitted planning to rob the bank.

Capt. Cutright said Goff told police he and Ferguson "chickened out" when they spotted a police cruiser nearby.

HERE'S WHAT WE'RE DOING!

We are installing a new carpet department, doubling the present size and plan an even better sales approach. We plan to double our already big carpet sales (January carpet sales were up 40% over last year).

Our linoleum and tile store will be pulled from the south end, to the Main Street store and we'll go into an even greater custom decorating program.

Furniture will be given more room displays with new lines added, and some dropped. Prices and quality will please you.

Special order department will be expanded to better serve you.

New sales methods will be introduced to save you money and get us an even larger share of the market.

All this takes room, and since many of the items which we bought at the Chicago market are arriving early we are pushed for room and have therefore no alternative but to cut the prices and sell to get room needed for remodeling.

The buys are here for you! Come and get them!

Many Items One-of-a-Kind — So Hurry! We'll Arrange Budget Terms to Suit You! Save on Kroehler, Bassett, Sealy, Serta!
